CAMPTON CURRENCY.

E. F. and O. W. Cecil, of Grassy, were attending court at this place yesterday.

G. D. Cook is now proprietor of the St. Cloud Hotel, having moved in some time last week.

The writer was misinformed when he said in his letter last week that Miss Bessie Byrd was visiting in Campton, and now makes the correction.

Senator Benj. Sewell and Representative A. C. Oliver came up from Frankfort Saturday to be with their families over Sunday. They left for Frankfort again Monday morning.

The school at this place is progressing nicely under the management of the principal, Prof. E. E. Whiteside. The attendance is the best that has been recorded for several years.

Circuit court convened here Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The regular judge, Robert Riddell, having sustained serious injuries in a fall at his home in Irvine, the governor had been notified that Judge Riddell, could not attend at this term. George W. Stone, of Leitchfield, was appointed special judge to hold this term of court and was present at the convening of court yesterday morning. The bar generally are well pleased with the selection made by the governor. Commonwealth Attorney James P. Adams is in attendance and prosecuting with his usual zeal.

The following is a list of visiting attorneys: Kelly Kash, D. B. Redwine and J. Wise Hagins, Jackson; Z. T. Hurst, Dover; J. B. White, Irvine; T. C. Johnson, Tallaga; Elias Shockey, Hazel Green; S. M. Nickell, West Liberty; John Tester, Landsaw; J. C. Lykins, Lexington, and A. F. Byrd, Winchester.

The following constitute the juries for the present term of court:

Grand Jury—H. B. Tyler, Joe Mullins, W. L. Bush, Sr., R. H. Haddix, Wm. Center, Elijah Kidd, A. J. Hollon, John H. Brooks, J. M. Tolson, Geo. C. Lacy, John N. Harris and C. E. Lacy.

Trial Jury No. 1—Joab Pence, Peter Cable, Geo. Chapman, Barney Kincaid, Jonas Taulbee, J. B. Kash, R. M. Shockey, J. W. Halsey, Lewis Hatton, Willie Oliver, A. B. Robinson and David Rose.

Trial Jury No. 2—S. S. Rose, Austin Crawford, J. B. McNabb, S. P. Murphy, Jesse Shackelford, R. A. Kash, Dock Chambers, Logan Linden, W. Z. Miller, John White, Henry Harris and Loss Shull.

A Cure for Misery.

"I have found a cure for the misery malaria poison produces," says R. M. James, of Louellen, S. C. "It's called Electric Bitters, and comes in 50 cent bottles. It breaks up a case of chills or a bilious attack in almost no time; and it puts yellow jaundice clean out of commission." This great tonic medicine and blood purifier gives quick relief in all stomach, liver and kidney complaints and the misery of lame back. Sold under guarantee at all dealers.

Death of Lee Fugate.

Lee Fugate died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fugate, Charleston, Ill., Saturday, Jan. 4, at 9:30 p. m., after a sickness of but one week from pneumonia. Funeral services were held at the family residence, conducted by Rev. George H. Brown, of the First Christian church.

Lee Fugate was 24 years of age, and had made Charleston his home only two years, having gone there from Morgan county, Kentucky, with his parents. He was an industrious young man and well respected by all who knew him. Besides the heart stricken parents he leaves three sisters and two brothers—Mrs. Noah Hill, Nannie, Maude, John and Oscar. .

LEE CITY LOCALS.

Floyd Arnett, of Neola, was here Monday on business.

Green Fields, of Lexington, was here Wednesday, calling on our merchants.

Tom Williams, who is watchman at the Frozen tunnel, was in town Monday on business.

B. M. McPherson, of Clay City, was here Friday on business. He says the tie business is dull.

Bill Perry, representing Van Deren Hardware Co., Lexington, was interviewing our merchants Tuesday.

J. S. Pemberton, of Bryan, O., tie inspector for the L. S. & M. S. Ry., was a guest of the Allen House Tuesday night.

Hiram Foster, of Indianapolis, was here last week and bought 3,000 ties. They will be loaded next Monday and Tuesday.

H. W. Bryant, Jr., and Scott Taylor left Monday morning at 2 o'clock going raccoon hunting. At 9 o'clock they returned without any 'coons.

Smith & Banks gave an entertainment at the school house last Monday night. Mr. Smith played some beautiful pieces on the graphophone, after which Mr. Banks showed some fine views with his stereopticon.

A. M. Nichell, who has been in the employ of J. Taylor Day for the past eighteen years, resigned several months ago. The resignation took effect Saturday, the 18th. He will move to his farm near Winchester March 1.

We understand G. W. Center & Son, of Belknap, are selling their entire stock of goods in order to pay their creditors. It is thought that they can pay all their indebtedness provided wholesale houses will not close in on them.

H. W. Bryant, Sr., is moving today (Thursday) from the C. W. Rose & Son hotel building to the Widow Graham property in the west end of town. This move is on account of business shutting down, consequently very few traveling men stay over night. They come in on one train and leave on the next, in either direction, generally. [If the merchants of Lee City would advertise their wares in THE HERALD, business would soon revive.—Ed.]

A GROWING INSTITUTION.

In the matter of attendance this year bids fair to eclipse any year in the history of Hazel Green Academy. Already there are 273, and still they come. The dining hall at the Yancey Home is strained for room with 132 taking meals there, but the local management will increase its facilities and be prepared at once to accommodate all who may come. The C. W. B. M. is determined to have everything pertaining to the academy up-to-date, thus providing both comfort and convenience for the students, and to this end will soon have a cistern with a capacity of 250 barrels of water, for drinking and lavatory purposes, and also as a protection against fire. A dynamo large enough to light all the buildings by electricity will soon be inaugurated, and every room of the said buildings will be heated by steam, which will insure comfort and largely eliminate the risk of fire. In addition to these improvements, weather permitting, the commodious concrete dormitory for the boys will be ready for occupancy soon. Briefly, the C. W. B. M. will expend about $5,000 to establish these improvements and every parent or guardian in this section should show his or her appreciation by patronizing the academy in educating their children. Aye, every merchant, and in short every citizen should aid in promoting its interests by act and by speech, always remembering that with the ladies composing that great moral and religious lever, the C. W. B. M., their work is purely "a labor of love," and that, preference aside, Hazel Green Academy is "the cheapest and best school in Eastern Kentucky." All who give it moral and material aid are the richer in those essentials which constitute true Christian manhood and womanhood.

The Country Teacher.

No doubt those of us who had the very doubtful privilege of taking the first steps of our education in a rural school, look back with more or less pleasure to the days when, beginning in September and continuing till February or March, we took our dinner baskets and went to the school house, a little building hidden away in some nook or corner among the hills. Those were pleasant days, indeed, but when we look soberly at them, we find that their romance is due almost entirely to their difficulty, and that their attractiveness comes from that very pleasant trick of memory by which days of former struggle are tinged with a gold which is altogether unreal. For our own part we had many small worries. There were many things to be done at home, and "town ball" was a mighty unsettling power, because we loved it so much; and during the long vacation we forgot about all that had been learned the preceding session; and then there were rainy days and bitter cold days, storms and snows, a frozen toe now and a bad cold then, and far too often we had no high regard for our teacher; these things, and many more, kept us from accomplishing even approximately what we should have done.

But great as were our own difficulties, the teacher had a far heavier load to carry. Pupils of every grade of intelligence, and of every degree of advancement from the primer to higher arithmetic, presented themselves in varying numbers on unconservative days to receive instruction from her. Her tact must be infinite, her inventiveness stupendous, and her patience inexhaustible. She must bear with the dull, encourage the discouraged, interest the idler, and provide ever-changing tasks for the mischievous. In addition to the regular studies of the common school course, she was often asked to give to some more ambitious student a course in algebra or Latin. To do all this required much resource on the part of the teacher. But when we recall in how short a space of time she was expected to get over all the ground and finish all the studies, we find the chief source of difficulty.

Taken altogether most teachers had about twenty-five classes. After deducting times for recesses there was left about six and a half hours for actual recitation work. It was impossible for more than fifteen minutes to be given to any class, and in most cases only five or ten minutes could be devoted to a single recitation. Lessons had, of necessity, to be short, and much of the pupil's time was vacant. Splendid opportunities were offered for mischief making, thus adding no small amount to the sum total of the teacher's work.

Such were the troubles of the country school teacher as we remember them. But the immediate reason for recalling them is to be found in the fact that they still prevail. The teacher in the country still has from year to year the same varied assortment of pupils, the same studies to teach, the same irregular attendance, the same petty annoyances to handle, and all to be done in the same amount of time. To keep up interest, to maintain discipline and to conduct from twenty to twenty-five classes each day is a task utterly impossible of accomplishment within the limits of the time allowed. A teacher's efficiency is conditioned by the proper relationship between the amount of work and amount of time devoted to that work. As it now is the work is out of all proportion to the time. The ground covered by the schools can not be lessened; it must rather be increased. What is to be done about it? There seems to be but one possible solution: Let the country schools be consolidated and graded, and the compulsory education laws be enforced until irregular attendance be reduced to a minimum. This will give both to the children and the teachers in the country a better opportunity.—W. F. Wyatt, Carroll county.

Don't Get Mad.

A subscriber once received a dun through the postoffice, and it made him mad. He went to see the editor about it and the editor then showed him a few duns of his own—one for paper, one for type, one for ink and several others. "Now," said the editor, "I didn't get mad when these came, because I knew that all I had to do was to ask several reliable gentlemen like you to come and help me out, and then I could settle all of them." When the subscriber saw how it was he relented, paid up and renewed for another year.—Ex.

A Strange Story.

Mrs. Isaac W. Austill, of Chestnut Ridge, N. C., tells a strange story of great suffering: "I was in bad condition for months, but got no relief. My periods had stopped, all but the pain. After taking part of a bottle of Wine of Cardui nature worked properly and without pain. I advise all suffering women to use Cardui." A pure specific remedy for women's ills. $1.00 at druggists.

AUGUST 10-15, 1908.

Date Chosen for Blue Grass Fair and Circuit of Other Fairs to be Formed.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Blue Grass Fair Association was held on Tuesday, Jan. 7, and the old Board of Directors was re-elected, with the exception of two men who were forced to retire from that board on account of other business. The board consists of Messrs. J. N. Camden, Jr., of Woodford county; Abram Renick, of Scott county; David Castleman, of Mercer county; C. E. Marvin, of Scott county; James L. Gay, of Woodford county; J. M. Terry, of Harrison county; E. F. Shropshire, of Bourbon county; E. A. Farra, of Jessamine county, and James L. Watkins, C. D. Cunningham, Leonard G. Cox, John Gaud, Jr., L. B. Shropshire, Joseph F. Walton and James R. Bush, of Fayette county.

Following the stockholders meeting a meeting of the newly elected directors was held and by unanimous vote J. L. Watkins was re-elected president and J. W. Porter, treasurer. The board claimed the week of August 10 to 15 for the Blue Grass Fair of 1908, so that the big Central Kentucky institution will this year, at last, open the circuit of important fairs of the country.

On Saturday, Jan. 18, a meeting of the secretaries of all the fair associations of Central and Eastern Kentucky will be held at Lexington to decide upon dates for these several fairs so as to endeavor not to have any conflict. A uniform classification will also be taken under consideration.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give $100 for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.

LANDSAW LACONICS.

Rollin Combs went to Stillwater Saturday on business.

When the Hair Falls

Stop it! And why not? Falling hair is a disease, a regular disease; and Ayer's Hair Vigor, as made from our new improved formula, quickly and completely destroys that disease. The hair stops falling out, grows more rapidly, and all dandruff disappears.

Does not change the color of the hair.

Ayer's
Formula with each bottle
Show it to your doctor
Ask him about it,
then do as he says

The little book in each package gives the formula of our new Hair Vigor, tells why each ingredient is used, and explains many other interesting things. After reading you will know why this new hair preparation does its work so well.

Through the efforts of W. B. Johnson, and others perhaps, the citizens of our town last week contributed about $70.00 as an offering to the C. W. B. M.

A son of Logan Childers, of Lacy creek, while cutting wood Saturday, split the great toe of his left foot from the end back to the second joint, making an ugly wound. Dr. C. Hood Williams was called, who dressed the wound, and the patient is now doing fine.

Dr. J. D. Whitaker and Miss Dora Lykins were married at Cannel City Sunday, Jan. 20, after a courtship of 15 years. Our girls say this is very encouraging, because if they could love a man for 15 years before marriage they feel that they'd have no fears after the knot was tied.

Mrs. Edgar Stead was on Friday brought from Ohio to the home of her brother, Jack Sally, in the hope that she might recuperate. She is a daughter of the late Heiskell Sally, her maiden name being Alice Sally. She married Edgar Stead, who was engaged in the oil business at Campton and later moved to Ohio, where she was taken down with tuberculosis.

Burned to a Crisp.

A little daughter of Azel Jones, of Lacy creek, caught fire Monday while getting dinner, and in her fright ran into the yard, where the wind added fury to the flames and every stitch of clothing was burned from her body. Dr. Nickell was called to attend her, and he tells us that with the exception of a small place between the shoulder blades the flesh was literally burned off her. He dressed the burns with linseed oil and bandaged the wounds to exclude the air, though he says it is hardly possible that she can survive the shock. She was alive Tuesday morning but suffering intensely. She died Tuesday at 8 o'clock a. m.

Settling Time Is Here.

R. J. McLin, manager, tell us that J. T. Day's books have been balanced to January 1, 1908, and that all who are indebted to J. T. Day, either by note or on account, and especially those who are running open accounts, are urgently requested to come in and settle up at once, as they have to open a new ledger and do not wish to carry over old accounts. All who have claims against J. T. Day are requested to present them at once for settlement.

Thanking all our patrons for past favors and hoping to merit their continued good will, we remain,
Respectfully, &c.,
R. J. McLIN, for
J. TAYLOR DAY.

Will Take Life Easy.

Saturday, Jan. 18, Ambrose M. Nickell resigned his position with J. Taylor Day after a continuous service of 18 years. Mr. Nickell told the writer that in all that time there had never been an unpleasant word passed between them nor had there ever been any ill feelings. This is a record of which both sides may well be proud, as it is seldom equalled. Mr. Nickell managed Mr. Day's Lee City store, and now retires from the mercantile business to bask under his own vine and fig tree on a bluegrass farm near Winchester.

The Epworth League.

The Epworth League of the M. E. church of our town reinstated its members Sunday night by taking the pledge and adopting the constitution and by-laws of the General League of the Conference. They invite the public in general to attend its meetings every Sunday night at 6 o'clock. Any one wishing to become a member of same can have the privilege of examining the constitution held by the secretary.

Enliven Her Visit.

Mrs. Mary Hord, of Flemingsburg, mother of Miss Sally Hord, the accomplished music instructor at the academy, is the guest of her daughter at the Yancey Home, and she will remain here during the winter for the benefit of her health. Better Late Than Never.

Sam Wilson, the poet man, has the thanks of the editor and his better seven-eighths for a fine pork ham weighing 6 pounds. We don't know whose smokehouse it came from but judging from its size it was pulled too green, though Sam says he intended it for a Christmas gift, and delay in delivery caused the shrinkage. But it was sweet, Sam—both the ham and to be so kindly remembered, and may your shadow ne'er grow less nor poetry less pathetic.

Schreiber-Cardwell.

Wednesday evening, Dec. 25, '07, Mr. Tom Schreiber, of Chandler, and Miss Dora Cardwell, formerly of Stillwater, Ky., were secretly married by Judge Wagoner, in the presence of only Samuel Wilson and Miss Hettie Davenport. The wedding, although long expected, was somewhat of a surprise when found out. It was kept secret until Saturday evening, Dec. 28.

Mr. Schreiber is one of Chandler's most popular young men. He has been in the postoffice service for several years and carries a record of truthfulness and true manliness.

The bride is the charming and graceful daughter of Judge C. A. Cardwell, is a handsome and winsome girl as can be found any place.

The young couple have a host of friends who join the Tribune in extending to them their hearty congratulations and wishing them a long life of happiness and prosperity.—Chandler (Okla.) Tribune.

KENTUCKY KERNELS

Carefully Collated and Concisely Chronicled.

A vicious dog belonging to Geo. Langley, of Covington, attacked a little three-year-old girl and severely bit her.

The three-year-old grandson of Louis Davis, of Covington, was fatally burned by its clothes catching fire while playing in front of a grate.

Algie, the three-year-old son of Albert Sargent, of Paducah, was burned to death last week by his clothes becoming ignited from a grate fire.

The police of Louisville arrested a man named T. H. Moran on the charge of fraudulently soliciting subscriptions for the German Protestant Orphan asylum last week.

A. T. McDonald, formerly managing editor of the Louisville Herald and the New York News, was last week elected secretary of the Louisville Commercial club at a salary of $3,000 a year.

George Sewell, said to be the oldest printer in Kentucky, dropped dead last Friday while at work in the office of the Somerset Herald. He was a member of Morgan's command during the civil war.

Two ex-governors of Kentucky of opposite political faith, and both candidates for United States senator, J. C. W. Beckham and W. O. Bradley, created a sensation in Frankfort last Friday by having their pictures taken together.

John Shepherd, of Leslie county, met death in a peculiar manner the other day while logging. When he was attempting to turn off a head of water the trigger to the splashdam flew wide and hit him on the temple, causing instant death.

Jesse Burnett, the 12-year-old son of John Burnett, of Pulaski county, was accidentally, perhaps fatally, shot last week by a playmate, Albert Hunt, of about the same age. The bullet entered young Burnett's mouth and lodged in the neck.

In Laurel county, near Somerset, the family of H. T. Jackson, consisting of eight persons, are all confined to their beds with typhoid fever, with the exception of one small boy. A twelve-year-old girl died Friday. Old Fellers and Knishes of Pythias are now caring for the family.

A South American cobra, about four feet long, one of the most poisonous snakes known, was found frozen stiff coiled around the stalk of a bunch of bananas in Lexington last Friday. It was put into a glass jar with a wire net covering, and on being thawed out showed its viciousness by striking its fangs against the sides of the jar. It will be turned over to the Kentucky State College.

Rank Foolishness.

"When attacked by a cough or cold, or when your throat is sore, it is rank foolishness to take any other medicine than Dr. King's New Discovery," says C. O. Eldredge, of Empire, Ga. My children are subject to croup, but New Discovery quickly cures the attack." Known the world over as the King of throat and lung remedies. Sold under guarantee by all dealers. 50¢ and $1.00. How I Got Mine.

[A humorous article written by Floyd Sally.]

Once upon a time, when it does not matter now, I visited a protracted meeting over on Peg Fork Pa had been talking to me about religion and future destiny, and advised me to stop reading yellow back novels, stop hooking watermelon, etc., and asked me to visit Peg Fork and get a good case of religion. Well, after reflecting a while, I decided to act upon his advice and go to the meeting. The meeting had been in progress for some time, and toward the close of the little preacher's remarks things began to warm up a bit I'll tell you and before I hardly knew it I was down at the "bench" with the others. A regular "pandemon," I think they call it, reigned, and in the midst of it I was pinned to the floor beneath two good old ladies, while most of the crowd seemed to walk over me real hard. Well, I had almost gone the limit of human endurance, when one of those pious looking old ladies shouted, "Quick fetch some water, he's fainted." I was immediately deluged with the contents of a bucket of ice cold water, and when at last I managed to extricate myself from my awful position, I made a break for the door, hatless, almost breathless, minus my watch and about three square yards of article. With a blood-curdling yell I disappeared in the darkness and fled for dear life across the fields to my home some two miles away, with my coat tails beating a tattoo in the air. Upon arriving at home pa mistook me for a burglar and shot at me, and I was immediately set upon by two vicious canines who succeeded in making carpet rags out of the back part of my trousers. In fact, I barely escaped with my life by perching on the gatepost for the remainder of the night, while the bleak wind whistled through my whickers. I'll tell you, dear reader, when morning came I was the picture of meekness. From that night hence I have never been to another protracted meeting, and whenever I hear a church bell ring I always faint.

This may be a poor attempt at humor, but that is what it is intended for and no one can possibly take offence at it since it is purely a stretch of the imagination and not calculated to offend any one.

HALSTEAD, KAN., Jan. 8, '08.

Editor HERALD, Hazel Green, Ky.

Dear Sir: As I have left my old Kentucky home, where I was born and raised, I, with my wife and seven children, left our old home on Grassy creek, Morgan county, on December 31, 1907, to make our future home in the state of Kansas. After a long and tiresome journey of nearly four days behind the iron horse, we landed in Halstead, a little town 6 miles east of our Kansas home, Jan. 3, 1908. We found Kansas to be a beautiful country, with its broad level fields of wheat, which is encouraging to the farmer.

And now with best wishes and a Happy New Year to you, Mr. Editor, and all of my relatives and friends, I remain, etc.,

JOHN C. GORE,

There are 250 students in regular attendance, and Prof. Derthick is especially anxious to secure protection against loss by fire.—Lexington Gazette.
